

Troubleshooting JODIFILTER

Filter Popping off Connector

- Use a thin coat of OtoEase, Vaseline or a light household oil on the rubber O ring on the blue connector
- Push the filter on to the connector firmly until you feel it snap on
- The oil will allow the filter to slide over the rubber O ring easily

Please note: There are no longer any threads on the end of the filters to screw the needles on. You just need to push the needle on until it feels snug.

Caution: be gentle, don't push too hard!
